ing, but were also killed. After the day's sport had closed it was the general opinion of experts that never before had the bookmakers scored such a positive and overwhelming victory. But one favorite landed purse and as he was at prohibitive odds the "bookles" kept about 90 per cent of the money handed up to them on the six races. In fact the money came in so easily that two of them smiled on the "pikers" and deigned to take one dollar bets.

Strong Favorite Beaten. The greatest "throw down" of the day came in the fourth race when Colonel Bill beat out Extinguisher by a head. The latter was at one to five, and only the plungers took any interest in his chances. As it was like "money from home" wagers of $1,000 to $200 and $100 to $20 were placed on Exto $200 and $100 to $20 were placed on Extinguisher. As there were but four horses in the race as good as two to one could have been secured on the field. At the outset of this race Blanche Herman and Outsider took up the running and maintained their position until turning into the stretch. At that point Outsider carried Blanche Herman and outsider carried Blanche Herman and outsider carried Blanche Herman areas as a state of the track. At that point Outsider carried Blanche Her-man away over to the middle of the track and Extinguisher and Colonel Bill shot in on the rail and took the lead. Neck and neck this latter pair raced down the stretch and when about a hundred yards from home Colonel Bill got his head in front and least it these until the finish was reached kept it there until the finish was reached.
The judges called Cochran into the stand and asked for an explanation. He said he had used bad judgment in going wide at the turn and he was let off with a reprimand. The fact of the matter is that little Redfern outrode Cochran and had he on Extinguisher he would be seen win just tham. On different Redfern has put up some clever richis exhibition yesterday on Colonel difficulties him to describe the second of the titles him to class with the very best jockeys in the business.

The regular betters got their first jolt n the initial race of the day, when Lee King, at 11 to 10, was bowled over in clever style by Prosper La Gai at 6 to 1. It looked like a romp for the favorite until the stretch was reached, when he died away and Prosper won out by a head from Kalif, Lee King taking third money.

White Owl was the best thought of in the second race, but Slidell, at 5 to 1, came through the bunch in the stretch and won in bellow states. in hollow style, a length separating him from Orla, and again the favorite had to be from Oria, and again the lavorite had to be content with third money.

Land of Clover moved up a notch for the "talent" in the third race, finishing second, while Zemora captured first place by a head. Carlovigian was well played, but the best he could do was third place. The the best he could do was third place. The favorite, like his predecessors, died away in the stretch after taking the lead all the Federalist Surprises the Talent.

Quite a surprise was sprung on the spectators in the fifth race, Federalist at 20 to 1 capturing the event in easy fashion, two favorites, Lau Rey and Bal oon, by a length. There was a great "tip" out on Ben Viking, but after the "wise?" money was down at evens, it was given out that he was sore and his price receded from 8 to 5 to 4 to 1. In the race he was never heard of.

But four horses went to the post in the last race and as Potente was fit, it was the McCafferty gelding all the way. This was the only favorite to land the money and most of the betting was for place between Scarlet Lily and Charley Moore, the former getting the position by

Three track records were broken—Prosper la Gal in the first race reducing the best previous time at one mile and fifty yards, from 1.47 4-5 to 1.46; Federalist in the fifth clipped one-fifth of a second from the record of 1.47, at one mile and forty yards, and Potente made his own pace for a mile and a furlong and lowered the track record of 1.57 2-5 by two-fifths of a second.

$10,500 FOR LORD DERBY.

Chimes Brought $5,100 a New York Auction.

The feature of the horse sale in New York yesterday was the sale of the famous trotting gelding Lord Derby, one of the fast steppers on the national trotting circuit this year. It was expected that Lord Derby would bring at public auction anyhing from $20,000 to $25,000, and considerable surprise was expressed when the animal brought only $10,500.

Lord Derby and Shadow Chimes were the wo stars of the Hamlin lot. The former has a mark of 2.061/2, while Shadow Chimes has a mark of 2.06½, while Shadow Chimes has made a mile in 2.06½. There was considerable interest when the "silent man," "Ed." Geers, drove Lord Derby into the ring. The band played "Hail to the Chief," and Lord Derby pricked up his ears and glanced around at the horsemen as if he appreciated the situation.

The bidding was not as spirited as was expected, and the auctioneer discoursed at length on the good points and speed of the gelding. D. Lamar and E. E. Smathers were the real rivals for the animal. Mr. Lamar dropped out at $10,000, and took the animal. Among others who bid on the animal were Wallace Pearse of Sharpsburg. Pa., who stopped at $9.5 0. Nathan Straus quit at $8,000. It was a dafter the sale that Mr. Smathers had aftered $20,000 for Lord Derby last summer, and that the offer had been refused, william West bought snadow Chimes for $5,100.

the future are rather unsettled. I will make him a fair proposition."

"What is your best fighting weight?"

"About 128 pounds. I cannot fight at 122 pounds. Wheil McGoverh agreed to fight, he said that he would make the match at any weight between 122 and 128 pounds. I will under those conditions. As everybody under those conditions. As everybody under those conditions. As everybody whows, I won."

McGovern's talk to the effect that although he has been defeated, he still remains featherweight champion, because the men fought at a higher weight himself, and as it was considerably under the lightweight champion, named, the weight himself, and as it was considerably under the lightweight championship limit, 133 pounds, the title went to the victor."

In some quarters the impression seemed to prevail that McGovern will turn the tables if the boys meet again. Those of that 'opinion believe that the dethroned featherweight did not train properly. With eight or ten weeks' preparation they think "Terry" could get in perfect shape and once again be champion. "Joe" Vendig is still a firm believer in McGovern. As evidence of his confidence in "Terry" ability to reverse Thursday's result he has bet $2,500 at even money that if the boys fight again the Brooklynthe will. "Eddie" Burke took the Corbett end.

Y. M. C. A. Won Two Games From Carroll Institute

M. C. A. and Carroll Institute bowling teams met in a league match on the Association's alleys last night, the Association coming out best in two of the games. The first game resulted in a tiethe first of the season. The decision went to the home five in the roll off, they making 111 to 83 for the Institute. The outcome of the match forces the Carrolls down another notch in the league race, the team now occupying next to last place, last night's defeats making five games lost out of the six played by the Carrolls this week. The Association makes a corresponding upward movement, and they are now within easy reach of the Jolly Fat Men for second position. Both of the teams played well in spots, though each made but one 800 game. The Carrolls again appeared at the allers with six players and after the trying ou in the first game, Harlow retired and his place was taken by Livingston. This shi tang of players is part of the policy of the tam this year, and there is not apparently much method in it, especially in view of the fact that Harlow was not the low man at the first game, and it is also noted that the growth provement on the work of the player who tryes superseded.

FAULTLESS GOLF. Travis Makes New Record of 75 in

Lakewood Tourney. Travis and new records are practically synonymous terms among golf players nowadays, and the sport has got to the point where the last is impossible unless coupled with the first. The Lakewood (N. J.) tournament has not escaped the universal rule. In his round yesterday over the lengthened eighteen hole course the amateur champion eclipsed all previous records with a score of 75. Under the conditions which prevailed this represents absolutely fault-less golf. It is four strokes under the best previous record, made by Jasper Lynch a fortnight ago, and though established at match play the fact that the champion holed out at every green gives the force of an orthodox stroke play card to the performance. It was known that Travis had quietly made up his mind to beat the old record, but when the morning opened with fre-quent flurries of snow it was thought impossible for him to accomplish his end. The snow, however, did not amount to much. At no time did it hide the turf, and the special consignment of red colored golf balls special consignment of red colored golf balls that had been held in readiness for just such a contingency remained unopened. In the forenoon Travis succeeded only in lowering his own medal winning score of Thanksgiving day by three strokes. This round put him on edge for the afternoon match, where he was paired with S. W. Cooke of the Hillandale Golf Club. Beginning with a phenomenal run of fours, he rounded the ninth green in 38, and completed the homeward trip in 37, a total of 75.

As a comparison with the work of two of the leading professionals of the country it may be added that this score is a stroke under the professional record, held jointly by "Willie" Norton and Horace Rawlins, both of whom played the course when it both of whom played the course when it was 160 yards shorter than at present.

The performance has had the effect of stimulating the interest which threatened to flag when Douglas lost his chance of meeting the champion Thursday. Instead of shaping itself for a match between these two rivals, the tournament has resolved into an exhibition of the most brilliant individual golf that has yet been seen on any American links, and as such is proving one of the most attractive ever given in Lake-wood.

Columbia Golf Club Meeting. The annual meeting of the Columbia Golf Club will be held at the Hotel Gordon Monday, December 2, at 8 o'clock p.m. Proposed amendments to the constitution as to auxiliary and minor members and other important matters will be discussed and acted upon. A full attendance of the members is looked for.

American League's Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the American League will be held in Chicago next Monday, and already most of the eastern magnates of that organization have started west. It is expected that the meeting will continue for about three days. President Postal and Manager Loftus of the Washington club will be in attendance and the latter part of next week leave the west for this city. Mr. Postal will remain in Washington for a week, but it is expected that Mr. Loftus will make this city his home in

At the coming meeting of the American League there is a great deal of work to be done, but as it is of the cut-and-dried order it is not thought that the conference will be a long one. The situation in St. Louis will be fully explained to the magnetes, but it is more than likely that nothing will be given out for publication. The National League also meets next week, and the two organizations being in conference at the same time might mean more than appears on the surface.

The commissioner advises farmers not to plant orchards this fall on land that was in woods seventeen years ago, as the locusts will be more numerous on such grounds. He says fruit trees that are planted near timber will be attacked worse, and that rye sowed on the land will hide the young trees from the locust if small trees are set. The commissioner saved from injury by locusts last summer a young apple orchard by cutting back the tops of the young trees and covering each with a yard of cheap cheese cloth, tying the four corners around the body of the tree and wrapping the body with newspapers. The cost was about three cents per tree. The locust remains but a month, after which the cheese cloth must be removed. the counties of Alexandria, Augusta, Car-

A "Bomb" Mystery Exploded. the London Telegraph.

The inhabitants of a house in the Nerud street at Pilsen were thrown into a mate of great a citement last Saturday evening by the respect that a home had been dis-house in dread of the coming explosion. The female caretaker said that, in closing the house at night, she had seen a black bomb on the cellar steps, with a long fuse attached. Her husband jumped through the window and made his way to the police. Two gendarmes shortly appeared and approached the black ball with the greatest possible precaution, one of them with a blow of his sword cutting the connecting cord. The ball was then thrown into a pail of water and conveyed away, the police of water and conveyed away, the police telling the woman to notice if any man ap-proached, as he might be the miscreant re-turning to observe the effects of his intend-ed crime. The poor woman sat up all night, and was only called on in the early dawn by a chimney sweeper, who inquired if she had seen his stove-pipe cleaner, which he had left the previous evening in the cellar. He was directed to the police office, where the "bomb" was delivered to him.
